

Prince Albert fits your taste!

Meets the fondest wishes of any man who likes to smoke because it has the right flavor and aroma and coolness. It's the most cheerful tobacco you ever did pack in a jimmy pipe or roll into a cigarette. And it's so good you just feel you never can get enough. The patented process fixes that—and cuts out bite and parch!

Listen:
It's easy to change the shape and color of unsuitable brands to imitate the Prince Albert tidy red tin, but it is impossible to imitate the flavor of Prince Albert tobacco! The patented process protects that!

When you fire up your first smoke you'll decide that you never did taste tobacco that hits your fancy like

the national joy smoke

For it exceeds in goodness and satisfaction the kindest word we ever printed about it!

Men, we tell you this tobacco will be a revelation to you. So, take this information at 100%, get out the old jimmy pipe from its hiding place or locate the makin's papers—and fall-to!

Your wishes will be gratified at the nearest store that sells tobacco, for Prince Albert is in universal demand. It can be bought all over the states and all over the world! Topsy red bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors—and that fine pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such excellent trim.

Wanted: a Younger Santa Claus.
"Please appoint a younger Santa Claus," wrote an eight-year-old Illinois girl to Postmaster General Burleson.
"Grandpa says he used to come to his house when he was a little boy, so he must be pretty old by this time, and I'm afraid he's too old to come to my house."
Mr. Burleson wrote to her that a personal representative of Santa Claus would attend to her wants.

Only a Beginning.
"She can't be as progressive as you say if she's taken up embroidering handkerchiefs."
"Why not?"
"Because that very seldom gets beyond the initial stage." — Baltimore American.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and removes dandruff. It is excellent for falling hair and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.

REMINGTON UMC

Two Favorite Shotguns and the Steel "Speed Shells"

"Dope" on shooting is plentiful. And shooters know where the right dope comes from—and that it leads straight to Remington-UMC.

THE Remington-UMC Pump Gun and Autoloading Gun—these are the shotguns of today. Adopted everywhere, for use in the field and over the traps—shot by more of the men who are setting the pace in the sport than any other make of guns in the world.

In the matter of Shells—where is the sportsman who does not know the Remington-UMC "Speed Shells," Steel Lined—all the drive off the powder kept back of the shot, and showing results that flatter any make of gun?

For the right dope—see the Remington-UMC Dealer. He displays the Red Ball Mark of Remington-UMC—the sign that this store is Sportsmen's Headquarters of the town.

A NOVEL CANNING CLUB CAMPING TRIP

The Jacksboro Canning Club, with the county agent and several friends, spent three days on a canning camping trip last week. They picked and canned huckleberries while having a healthy, outdoor good time. The camp was on Cumberland mountain on land owned by John Bowman, who kindly permitted the club to use his ground and berries, and Mr. Lewis Bowman lent his tent to the campers. By the kindness of Mr. Flem Lay, the supplies were gotten up the rough mountain road to the tent site.

The campfire was the center of attraction during the stay, a forked stick driven into the ground at either side of the fire held a stick on which the buckets and kettles were hung over the fire. Here the camp meals were prepared. Each camper was detailed a special duty, so the burden was heavy on no one. A cheap fireless cooker, that the girls are taught how to make and use, simplified the cooking, and while vegetables were cooking in this the campers would leave the camp in quest of huckleberries. A portable outdoor canner made the canning possible. The girls are taught canning by the cold-pack method, where the fruit is packed in the jar or can cold and put in boiling water to be processed; this process retains the flavor and crispness of the fresh fruit.

"Shep," Homer Baird's trusty dog, guarded the camp in the absence of the berry-seekers and made himself useful in many other ways. On one occasion he ran down a poisonous snake and held it at bay till his master killed it. "Shep" was unanimously voted the hero of the hour.

Many thrilling and hair-raising tales had been told; the howl of wild cats that prowled and came to the camp and of the rattlers that would rattle and bite. The time of departure came and no wild cat or rattlesnake had been seen or heard; the campers left reluctantly and felt deep disappointment that no blood-curdling stories could be related by them. However, they can report an unusually good time and quite a number of cans of huckleberries.

The camp was named "Chigger" camp, as every member soon discovered that it had been inhabited by millions of these animals.

The members of the camping party were: Misses Janie B. and Nell Taylor, Lon Brickey, Emma and Ola Clark, Emma Griffin, of Knoxville, and Messrs. Homer Baird, Irdel Peters, Charles Clark, Mrs. Taylor and the County Agent, Miss May Treadwell, chaperoned the party.
